

Mixed Freedom Groups Leave for Deep South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The first of three bus riding groups totaling 32 white and Negro "Freedom Riders" arrived at Myrtle Beach, S.C., this morning for a brief rest stop after the short, uneventful trip from Wilmington, N.C., where they spent Tuesday night.

Eight members of the party that left Washington Tuesday were aboard the scheduled public (Greyhound) bus that was to take them to Charleston, S.C., where they will remain overnight before continuing to Florida Thursday.

Six more riders who remained in Wilmington overnight were due to leave this afternoon for Charleston, also by scheduled bus, in their test of racial segregation in the South.

They will proceed to Jacksonville, Fla., Thursday morning and go on to St. Petersburg, Fla., Friday. They are not passing through Alabama or Mississippi.

A third group, composed of four rabbis, eight white Protestant ministers and six Negro ministers, was to leave Raleigh, N.C., late this morning after spending the night there. They were headed for Sumter, S.C. They are due in Tallahassee, Fla., Thursday and will fly back to New York for a news conference Friday.

The group's trip is sponsored by the Congress of Racial Equality to test whether Negroes can use the same facilities as white passengers in interstate travel.

"As interstate passengers, we have a Supreme Court verdict saying this is our right," said the Rev. Gordon D. Negen, 29, a white minister from New York who is participating in the ride.

Ralph Diamond, 36, a Negro who is leading the riders who stopped in Wilmington, said "we just thought it would be wiser" to split into two groups for the trip from Wilmington to Charleston, through a portion of South Carolina where segregation feeling is high. "We have several tests we want to conduct," Diamond said.

The Freedom Riders passed quickly through Virginia and North Carolina Tuesday the first day of their trip from Washington.

Wilmington Police Chief J. J. Padrick had a force of about 10 uniformed officers at the bus terminal when they arrived in late afternoon. But they weren't needed.

The Freedom Riders got off the bus, entered the terminal restaurant, bought refreshments and then left by taxi for a Negro hotel, where both white and Negro riders spent the night. Police patrolled the area.

The Rev. Robert J. Stone, white minister and pastor of Adams Park Presbyterian church in New York City, was spokesman for the group that stayed overnight in Raleigh. He said his party encountered no incidents. The party stayed at Shaw University, a Negro institution in Raleigh.

The ministers plan to depart today from Raleigh en route to Tallahassee, Fla., where they hope to arrive Thursday.

Gov. Farris Bryant of Florida said through his office that he urges Floridians to ignore the riders. However, before he left Tallahassee on a business trip he signed a law permitting authorities to disperse persons assembled lawfully.

A Mississippi Negro, Leon Dan Horn, 22, said in Jackson, Miss., that "I'd rather be in jail than starve in Chicago." He sought a Freedom Ride from Chicago to his home state. He is among 82 riders in jail in Jackson, where 110 have been arrested since May 24.

Mayor Haydon Burns of Jacksonville, Fla., and five other officials were ordered by a federal judge to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt for refusing to allow Negroes to enter a municipal swimming pool.

Transfer of Graverobber Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Twenty-two-year-old Airman 2C Jerry Reynolds, who admitted breaking into two graves and stealing one body shortly after last Christmas, will be transferred to a Veterans Administration hospital in Kansas Friday.

Circuit Judge William J. Kirby approved Reynolds' transfer from the State Hospital Tuesday after being notified the serviceman had been declared unfit for further military service.

Kirby said the notification came from an Air Force Physical Evaluation Board at Lackland Air Force Base at San Antonio, Tex. The board said the federal hospital at Topeka, Kan. would admit Reynolds for treatment.

Reynolds, arrested last January admitted breaking into the two graves at cemeteries at Jacksonville but said he could give no reason for his action. He was stationed at Little Rock Air Force Base at the time.

State Hospital psychiatrists ruled him mentally ill last March 8.

The body of a young girl taken from one of the violated graves was later recovered. Reynolds said he threw away some jewelry taken from another grave. It was not found.

Union Bible School Now in Progress

The Union Vacation Church School will begin Monday morning of next week and continue in session each morning from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. Monday through Friday for the next two weeks.

The Christian Church and the Presbyterian Church are holding the school together and are co-operating in conducting the school with the sessions to be held in the Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. W. E. Waller is the Director of the School and Mrs. James W. Branch is Associate Director. Others include:

Kindergarten: Miss Mary Lou Park, Mrs. Floyd Leverett, Miss Judy Robins.

Primary: Mrs. James Branch, Mrs. Neil Crank, Mrs. Lex Helms.

Juniors: Dr. and Mrs. L. T. Lawrence, Cissy Ellis, Susie and Becky Waller.

Pioneers: Mrs. Clifford Bell, Mrs. Lynn Harris.

Boys and girls from the age of four through the Junior. School age are invited to attend the school.

Courses of study are provided for the different departments. There will be games and handicraft work. A happy time is assured for all who attend.

Sheriffs to End Convention

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The National Sheriff's Association winds up its 21st annual conference with a full day of activities today.

New officers will be elected and a 1963 convention city selected. A banquet and dance will climax the three-day gathering.

Dr. Ralph A. Phelps Jr., president of Ouachita Baptist College at Arkadelphia, will be a banquet speaker.

Association secretary Charles Hahn of Washington, D.C., Tuesday said the meeting has been the most successful in the association's history. A total of 587 sheriffs and deputies from 34 states are attending the meeting.

The delegates toured Winrock Farm Tuesday afternoon and evening as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller.

Adlai Greeted by Hostile Chile Leftists

By MAX HARRE

SANTIAGO, Chile — A handful of leftists smashed the U.S. info. Agency Tuesday night, protesting the arrival of Adlai E. Stevenson, as President Kennedy's special envoy.

In the most hostile incident so far of Stevenson's South American tour, about 30 demonstrators paraded through the streets of Santiago, chanting "Cuba si, Yanqui no." They rushed the USIA office, shattering plate glass windows with long poles.

The lone policeman on duty arrested one demonstrator, but the rest escaped, leaving behind a banner saying "Go home Stevenson."

U.S. Embassy officials said the demonstrators were Communists. Otherwise, Stevenson's reception was warm and friendly.

Crowds of several hundred greeted him at the airport and at the hotel where he is staying in the heart of Santiago.

Stevenson planned to devote most of his time here to talks about next month's meeting of the Inter-American Economic and Social Council at Punta del Este.

Chilean President Jorge Alessandri already has endorsed the conference and has had his experts working on preliminary aspects for some time.

Stevenson, touring 10 South American countries in advance of the economic meeting, leaves early Thursday for Bolivia.

Judge Rules Favorable for School Board

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "I do not believe . . . that it is necessary for any further action to be taken by the court at this time," U.S. District Judge Gordon E. Young said Tuesday in referring to the Little Rock integration dispute.

His remark was in a letter to Negro attorney Wiley A. Brantley, who had written Young to say that if the Little Rock School Board's plan to integrate junior high schools next fall had been disclosed in time, a number of Negroes would have made application to attend the white schools.

The school board said May 25 that it would begin junior high integration next fall, and assigned 25 Negro students to the white junior high schools. Another 234 were assigned to predominantly white senior high schools.

Brantley wanted the board to make assignments for Negro students all over again.

Young said he did not feel his order of May 31 needed clarification. In that order, he directed the school board to report to him by July 15 on the procedures it used in making initial assignments and in considering requests for reassignments.

"We take the position that there has been a complete discrimination practice with reference to initial assignments," Brantley said last week in challenging the board's assignment procedures.

He said such a challenge would come either in a reply to the board's July 15 report or in a motion filed before that time.

Panel to Speak for Bond Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A three-man panel will speak for Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million state bond issue on a statewide radio and television network Thursday night.

It will be the second radio-TV pitch on behalf of the bond proposal, which comes to a popular vote on June 27, on a statewide radio and television network Thursday night.

Arnold Sikes, Faubus assistant who is heading the bond drive, said today the panelists would be C. Hamilton Moses, former Arkansas Power & Light Co. chairman; state Sen. Olen Hendrix, Prescott banker and chairman of the State Hospital Board; and Silas Snow, president of Arkansas State Teachers College.

The State Hospital and state educational institutions would get the bulk of the bond money, to be issued over a four-year period.

Friday night, alumni of the University of Arkansas and state colleges are sponsoring a bond rally at the University Medical Center in Little Rock.

Stations to carry Thursday night's panel include KARK-TV and KATV, Little Rock; KSFA-TV, Fort Smith; KTAL-TV, Texarkana; KTVB-TV, El Dorado; WMCT, Memphis; and KITS-TV, Springfield, Mo.

Harrison Flood Cost $5 Million

HARRISON, Ark. (AP) — Damage from the May 7 flash flood which swept Harrison and claimed four lives has been set at $5,276,000 by Army Engineers, Mayor Don O. Hester said Tuesday.

Loss to municipal property was set at $431,000, residential damage was $385,000 and damage to industrial property was $232,000, Paul Adams, chief of reports and economics for the Little Rock Engineer office, said. The figures included both buildings and inventories.

Adams said the feasibility of a multi-purpose dam on Crooked Creek, which roared out of its banks and swept the city early May 7, is being studied by Army Engineers.

Such a dam would provide flood control, recreation and a future city water supply.

It is one of three flood control projects under study, Adams said. Others are a swamow or levee system through the city and a lower levee to work in connection with a soil conservation program involving small upstream dams.

Youth, 12, Saves Three Others

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "Mother, they're drowning and I can't get all three of them," cried 12-year-old Lee Roy Runnels. But he did save all three of the drowning girls.

Runnels, who learned to swim at a YMCA five years ago, applied artificial respiration techniques learned in a school health class to revive 8-year-old Jeanette Mullens.

The other two girls, Gladys Puckett, 9, and her sister, Shirley Puckett, 15, were pulled to safety Tuesday before Runnels swam to the bottom to pull the unconscious Jeanette out.

Runnels and the three girls were clinging to a floating board which carried them into deep water at a lake in nearby Mabelvale. The girls, none of whom could swim, slipped from the board.

The "mother" to whom Lee Roy called was his grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Folsom, with whom he lives.

"I told him to get the ones he could and that I would help," Mrs. Folsom said. "I told him to be brave because he's a good swimmer."

Jeanette and Gladys were released after examination at a hospital.

Says Welfare Not Up to Bond Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today that welfare clients will get scheduled in increased benefits unless the Legislature should revoke its previous authorization.

Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said Tuesday that if Faubus' $60 million construction bond plan is adopted, welfare checks will be increased early in the next fiscal year which begins July 1.

But he predicted that if the proposal fails, checks might have to be lowered.

Faubus noted that the 1961 Legislature set up machinery for an increase welfare grants and said this would go through regardless of the fate of the bond proposal unless the Legislature, in an expected special session, should decide to cut appropriations for all agencies to initiate a pay-as-you-go construction program.

It was announced today that a three-man panel would plug for the bond proposal, which comes to a popular vote on June 27, on a statewide radio and television network Thursday night.

And opponents charged that 10 counties would be chief beneficiaries of the bond money.

Gunshot Wound Proves Fatal

HELENA, Ark. (AP) — A Marvel Cafe owner, James E. Cox, 47, died in a hospital Tuesday—four days after he was shot during what the sheriff called a crap game fight.

Sheriff Edgar P. Hickey said the shot was fired while Cox and another man were struggling on the floor of the cafe last Saturday.

Hickey said an investigation was under way to determine what charges, if any, would be filed in the case.

Coroner J. W. Butts said the .25 caliber bullet lodged in the victim's left kidney.

Ford Issues Figures on School Cash

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Education Commissioner Arch Ford made public some financial information Tuesday, saying he was doing so because of "misinformation about school finances" which he said is being circulated.

He did not elaborate, but he obviously referred to charges and counter charges being aired in connection with the effect Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million state construction bond issue would have on public school finances.

The information was contained in a newsletter Ford sent to all local and county school board members in Arkansas.

Ford noted that the state Board of Education has budgeted $51,500,000 for the public school fund in the 1961-62 school year which begins next September. Actual expenditures are expected to total $51,667,000, he said.

He compared the figure with the $30,451,847 which he said represented the actual expenditures from the fund in the 1954-55 school year.

Ford said it represented a 66.6 per cent increase over the seven year period, $21,216 per year from state sources alone.

The increase does not include property tax assessments on the local school district level, he said.

With such assessments the school fund exceeds $100 million a year, Ford said.

Mrs. Perkins Kiwanis Club Speaker

Mrs. P. L. Perkins, author and long-time English teacher in the Hope Public Schools, was guest speaker before Hope Kiwanis club yesterday and told of the preparation and work that went into "Language Book Five."

This is one of a series of books on the fundamentals of the English language and is designed to furnish extra drill for any textbook. The books, to be used by elementary students, will enable the pupils to be better prepared for senior high school English, Mrs. Perkins pointed out.

The books, to be on the market soon from coast to coast, will offer a challenge to the modern child, who is more capable to learn at an earlier age than were the children a decade ago—this ability a result of the radio, television, audio-visual, and more extra-curricular activities, said Mrs. Perkins.

The speaker was given a standing ovation as she brought her talk to the conclusion by telling of some of her experience in 35 years of teaching the English language.

The program was arranged by Kiwanian Guy Griggs. Guests included Dr. Thomas P. Brewster, a former Presbyterian pastor of Hope; and Paula Dupree.

Funds Asked for Arkansas Flood Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional approval of $250,000 in advance planning funds for a nine-foot navigation channel on the Ouachita River was sought by an Arkansas-Louisiana delegation before a House Appropriations Subcommittee Tuesday.

President Kennedy had recommended the funds in his budget.

The delegation, headed by Reps. Oren Harris, D-Ark., and Otto Passman, D-La., also asked for $461,000 to complete advance design work on the DeGray Dam in Arkansas. Kennedy had recommended $399,000 for that project.

The money would be for use in the fiscal year which begins July 1. Other funds recommended, all contained in the Kennedy budget, included:

Tensas Basin drainage project construction funds, $1,300,000. Red-Ouachita backwater area construction funds, $25,000. Ouachita projects maintenance and operation funds, $1,300,000.

Harris also urged Congressional approval of $15,000 for replacement of two bridges on Boeuf River and Big Bayou as part of the Boeuf and Tensas River drainage project in Chicot County, Ark.

Arkansians in the delegation, other than Harris, were H. W. McMillan of Arkadelphia, H. K. Thatcher of Camden and Louis Hurley, Tyrus Stewart, Joe Templeton, John Meek and H. A. Kennedy of El Dorado.

Payment Is Stopped to Sheriff's Son

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — It may be legal for sheriffs to hire close relatives, but County Judge Arch Campbell says he will not approve the pay claim for L. C. Young Jr., son of the Pulaski County sheriff.

The attorney general's office said Tuesday that a 1933 law prohibiting county officials from hiring close relatives was amended by a 1941 to exclude sheriffs from its provisions.

Young's son was hired June 1 to temporarily replace a deputy who was injured in a traffic accident. The officer is expected to be absent two or three months.

When the sheriff submitted his payroll for the first half of June, Campbell struck off Young's claim for pay for his son, about $350 a month.

It was then Young asked for the attorney general's ruling.

Campbell, notified of the ruling, said he still would not approve the claim.

He insisted that a later law, which made the sheriff and collector's offices separate posts, invalidated the 1941 repealer.

"The courts will have to decide it," Campbell said.

Communists Under Jobless Insurance

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court today reversed a New York State order that removed the Communist party from the list of organizations whose employees are covered by state unemployment insurance.

Justice Harlan delivered the unanimous decision.

Harlan said the federal Communist control law of 1954 does not require exclusion of the Communist party from New York's unemployment system. New York courts, the justice said, "mistakenly rested" their decision on a contrary premise and their holdings therefore had to be reversed.

The Supreme Court's decision did not make clear whether the state could do the same thing on some ground other than the federal Communist control law.

Challenges Revenue Estimate

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An attorney for the Arkansas Education Association, Eugene Warren, today challenged the latest estimates of state revenue in the next fiscal year.

Warren said that estimated revenue of $106 million as predicted by Comptroller L. A. Mashburn Monday "will insure issuance of more building bonds but still won't fulfill the appropriations for state agencies."

Warren is a leading opponent of Gov. Orval E. Faubus' proposed $60 million construction bond issue, which is contingent upon State Revenues annually being available to support the bonds.

He contended that the revised estimate of revenue, up from earlier figures, was an attempt "to confuse the voters in the bond election of June 27."

Warren charged that additional bonds will be issued regardless of whether the amounts appropriated for state agencies is reached or not.

Organ Being Restored on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Radio soap operas which invariably used organ music for their background gave the instrument some of its saccharine reputation. Now television is helping restore the organ to its deserved high place.
TV daytime serials still rely on the organ to provide dramatic accents and over-all atmosphere.
But nowadays the music is much more sophisticated. Billy Nalle, the organist on the "Young Dr.
Malone" series on NBC, plays jazz for the show's music, improvising and weaving themes together as the action proceeds.

Nalle broke the organ-labo in television. He played a jazz background on a CBS "Suspense" show in 1953 — long before the dramatic "Peter Gunn" theme music was even dreamed about.

The most interesting part of Tuesday night's "TV Guide Awards Show" on NBC was the result of the voting by readers on their favorite shows and performers. Presumably the most dedicated of TV viewers were the ones who cast their ballots in the magazine's poll. There were eight categories of shows.

"Sing Along With Mitch" won as the best musical or variety show. NBC's election night coverage and its nightly Huntley-Brinkley news report were tops in their current events categories.

"Machbeth," an NBC Hall of Fame special, was chosen as the best dramatic program of the season. CBS' "The Andy Griffith Show" was picked by the public as its favorite new series, while CBS' "Perry Mason" and its star, Raymond Burr, were declared the favorite series and the favorite male star. Carol Burnett, of CBS'
"Garry Moore Show," was voted the favorite female star.

The program wasted little time passing out the awards, and most of the 60 minutes was devoted to a series of rather uninspired sketches gently kidding—as usual — television ratings, commercials, cue cards, Westerns and private eyes.

Slain Officers Average 5 Month

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—An average of five U.S. law enforcement officers a month are slain while patrolling alone, the secretary of the National Sheriffs Association said today.

Charles Hahn of Washington said the association, which is holding its annual convention here, vigorously opposes having only one officer in a patrol car.

"I wouldn't ride a patrol car at night by myself for $5,000 a month," Hahn said in an interview.

Hahn praised the unpaid volunteers he said accompanied regular deputies on nighttime rounds in many areas.

He said the Sheriffs Association also wants "to get the kids out of the county jails to the proper type of detention facilities."

He said the association opposes the use of jails for keeping the mentally ill but added that no other facilities were available in many communities.

This Takes Credit a Bit Too Far

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—When a 12-year-old can saunter into a store and put a lollipop or a baseball bat on his own charge account, is that carrying credit a little too far?

Or is it teaching him responsibility, making him a debt-conscious small edition of pop?

Whether it's robbing the cradle or performing community service, some stores in some states make charge accounts available to children as young as 12.

"This phenomenal growth of teen-age credit is one aspect of the consumer credit explosion," says Hillel Black, who came across on-the-cuff plans for junior during research for his book "Buy Now, Pay Later."

"Kids get allowances from their parents, have part-time jobs — and it's all their money to spend the way they want to. The teenage market now is figured at $10 billion a year; by 1967 it's expected to rise to $15 billion," Black says.

But there are certain risks in selling debt to children, he points out. Nearly all adults have a credit history, but kids don't. How do you decide which are good risks?

"A credit manager in one Pennsylvania store told me that if parents show a good credit record, he'll take a chance on their offspring," says Black. "If the parents' record is bad, he may reject the child."

"He went on to say that although he doesn't tell the child why he is being rejected the youngster always knows it's because his parents owe a lot of money. I seriously question whether this is a healthy thing for children, with the credit sins of the fathers being handed down to the next generation."

There's no doubt, of course, that most adults have more than a nodding acquaintance with buying on time. The typical American family today owes $5,000, a 413 per cent climb in 15 years.

"I don't think credit itself is bad," Hill says. "It's necessary to our way of life and our economy. It supplies jobs, it allows low income people to bring up their standard of living.

"But my objection is that the

Will See If State Can Get Relief

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus will ask the Arkan-titled to any relief under a federal depressed areas law.

Faubus indicated today he feels the Camden area might qualify under the new Kennedy Administration bill.

"We also have many rural areas with chronic under-employment," he said. "Some of them might be eligible."

Camden has been economically depressed since the government closed the Shumaker Naval Ordnance Depot about two years ago.

American consumer is to often deceived, and in some instances outrageously swindled. He doesn't know, can't figure out and is rarely told what he is paying for debt. There's no comparison shopping, no way of finding out what credit costs in terms of simple annual interest.

"For the teen-ager, this means he's never taught the true cost of credit—which can run up to 80 per cent interest charges on a $25 account."

[A PEEK AT PREMIUM PINK, THE ADDITIVE OF THE FUTURE]

SEND FOR YOUR FREE SAMPLE OF PINK AIR!

(As we know, there is a strong trend in the gasoline station industry toward adding a coloring ingredient to the air which goes into your tires. Like blue, purple, green, crimson, and others. The reason is: additives have been added to everything else connected with your car. Now it is air's turn. But authorities estimate that it will be ten years before the switchover from ordinary air is completed and colored air is in the hoses.

Meanwhile Fina, an alert young oil company, has staked out Pink Air® And has started a crash program so they can beat everybody else by five years: the Fina Five Year Plan.)

WE are happy to report some progress. Our Pink Air Research Laboratory at Mount Pleasant, Texas is hard at work on the secret ingredient which will turn air pink. We are still confident that we will be able to get it to our more than 2,000 Fina stations by May 12, 1966. About 4:30 P.M., we figure; some of our trucks don't get around until late in the afternoon.

We will keep you posted.

However, a technical question has been brought to our attention: "How is anybody going to know what Pink Air looks like when it's inside a tire?"

That is a good question and to answer it we will send you a sample as we promised in our last ad. A Free sample.

Naturally, for security reasons* we won't be able to send you any real Pink Air. Besides, what would we mail it in? No, the best answer is a pink balloon,so when you blow it up Regular air will look like Premium Pink.

And there'll be a Fina emblem on it so the next time you're driving down the road and you see it and the station is on your side so you don't have to make a U-turn and there aren't six cars waiting and you need gas or something, please stop in. And see for yourself that our products are just exactly as good as the best.

And when you're through looking at the Pink Air give it to the kids, they'll like it. How many children do you have?

*It might float into the wrong hands. Enough said.
Actually, TWO balloons, one inside the other. Don't worry, we'll send directions.

Giants Within a Game of National Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The third place San Francisco Giants moved within one game of the National League lead by beating second place Los Angeles 4-3 Tuesday night.

Relievers Dick Lemay, making his first major league start, Tom Seaver and Stu Miller blanked the Dodgers on two hits over the last three innings. Miller (6-0) was the winning pitcher.

Cincinnati lost 2-1 to Pittsburgh, but retained a half-game lead. Philadelphia beat St. Louis 3-2 in the only other NL game scheduled.

In the American League, Cleveland retained a one-game lead and bounced New York back to third place by beating the Yankees 7-2. Detroit regained second place with a 7-1 victory over Boston. Baltimore defeated Washington 8-7. Minnesota cracked Kansas City 8-6 and the Chicago White Sox swept a two-night pair from the Los Angeles Angels, 2-1 and 10-2.

A two-run homer by Willie Mays in the seventh inning wrapped it up for the Giants, who trailed 3-0 after 2½ innings. Ed Bressoud homered in the third for the Giants' first hit off loser Stan Williams (4-6), and Mays manufactured the second run virtually all by himself in the fourth.

Willie beat out an infield hit, stole second, scampored to third on a fly to short center and trotted home on a single by Jim Davenport.

The Dodgers scored all their runs, one a homer by Ron Fairly, off starter Sam Jones. Lemay, up from the Texas League, came in with one on and two out in the fourth inning and stopped the Dodgers cold with 2-3 frames of no-hit relief before giving way for a pinch-hitter.

The Pirates beat the Reds for the fifth time in seven tries, breaking up a shutout duel with two runs in the sixth inning. Don Hoak, who had a single, a double and a triple while extending his hitting streak through 12 games, drove in the first run with a double off loser Jim Maloney (2-2), who then forced in the clincher by walking Bill Mazeroski with the bases loaded. Joe Gibbon (3-2) won it, blanking the Reds on five hits until the ninth, when Frank Robinson doubled and scored on a single by Gene Freese.

Johnny Callison broke up a 2-2 tie in the eighth inning with a double for the Phils, his first hit in two weeks. Frank Sullivan (3-9) making his first relief appearance, was the winner. Larry Jackson (2-6) lost it.

Travs Again Victim of Macon Team

By VERNON BUTLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Left-handers usually have trouble handling the Birmingham Barons, but Al Neiger of Chattanooga had a special weapon going for him, a slugging outfielder named John Herstein.

Herstein, former four-sport ace at the University of Michigan, hit a home run, a triple and a double last night to power Chattanooga's Southern Association leaders to a 6-3 victory over second-place Birmingham. The decision restored the Lookouts' three-game lead over the Barons.

Neiger, now 5-3 for the year, surrendered 12 hits, but all of them were singles.

Shreveport kept third-place Atlanta on the skids by handing the Crackers their third straight setback 7-5. Macon beat slumping Little Rock 5-3 in 10 innings and Nashville captured a 3-2 squeaker from Mobile's last-place bears.

Indians Drop Yankees, Keep 1st Place Lead

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland retained a one-game lead and dropped New York back to third place in the American League race with a 7-2 victory over the Yankees Tuesday night. Detroit returned to second place by whipping Boston 7-1.

Baltimore defeated Washington 8-7. Minnesota cracked Kansas City 8-6 and the Chicago White Sox swept a two-night twinbill from the Los Angeles Angels 2-1 and 10-2.

In the National League, Cincinnati lost 2-1 at Pittsburgh but retained a half-game lead when San Francisco defeated the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-3. Philadelphia beat St. Louis 3-2 in the only other game scheduled.

The Indians chopped off the Yankees' winning streak at five games by building a 6-0 lead in two innings against Jim Coates (6-3), who also had won five straight. A two-run homer by Johnny Romano capped a four-run first that nailed it for the Tribe, and Bubba Phillips homered leading off a two-run second. Jim Perry (5-4) won his third in a row, although needing relief help in the ninth from Frank Funk. Perry gave up 10 hits, one home run No. 21 by major league leader Roger Maris.

Norm Cash batted in four runs with a pair of homers, one a three-run, inside-the-park shot that settled it in the third inning for the Tigers. Cash, 2-for-3, took over the AL batting lead at .374, pushed his league-leading RBI total to 54 and upped his home run count to 19, slugging six in the last four games. Southpaw Don Mossi (7-1) was the winner, although allowing 12 hits, the same number Detroit collected off loser Gene Conley (2-5).

A pinch single by Marv Throneberry broke a 7-7 tie in the ninth for the Orioles. Reliever Dick Hall (2-2) won it, scoring the winning run after getting on base with a single — his first hit of the season. Gus Triandos drove in three runs for Baltimore with two homers Tom Sturdivant (2-4) was the loser in relief.

Billy Martin did the thumping for the Twins, driving in four runs as Manager Cokie Lavagetto came back a winner after a week's vacation ordered by club owner Cal Griffith. Martin drove in two runs with a triple as the Twins tied it 3-all in the sixth, then clinched it with a two-run single when they scored four in the seventh and beat Norm Bass (4-4). Ray Moore (4-2) was the winner in relief.

The White Sox, winning four in a row for the first time this season, took the opener on a two-run homer by Floyd Robinson off loser Ryne Duren (2-7) in the third inning. Right-hander Cal McLish (3-6), who had lost five in a row, made it stand up, shutting out the Angels on five hits until Leon Wagner homered in the ninth. Al Smith's grand-slam homer in the fifth inning did it. Juan Pizarro's first AL victory. Ron Kline (1-4) was the loser.

Playing Mark Twain Proves Interesting

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—After playing Mark Twain more than 1,050 times in 13 years, Hal Holbrook has decided to hang up his white wig and mustache for a while.

It isn't that the 36-year-old actor is weary of impersonating the famous American humorist at 70 — job he's done in 900 cities in 14 countries on three continents. He just feels it is time for a little change.

"I'm not giving up Mark Twain for good," he said. "Twain is something like a church to me — a place you go into that is very private, and you get a kind of sustenance from it."

"But if you stayed there all the time, it wouldn't be the same. You can even get used to a beautiful sunset if you see too many of them."

In a year or two he wants to make a worldwide tour in his depicting Twain as a lecturer. Meanwhile, he plans to appear in a play, help write a musical adaptation of Huckleberry Finn, and develop a new solo act built around another famous American — Abraham Lincoln.

Starting next Aug. 18 Holbrook will star in a contemporary drama by Karl Wittlinger, which racked up 7,000 performances in Europe.

"It is laid in a mental hospital," he said, "and concerns a German ex-soldier's search for identity and faith in the postwar world."

"It has only two actors—the patient, whom I play, plus an actor who plays the doctor and 11 other parts."

Holbrook is quite content to let someone else do the changing required to portray 12 persons. He has spent a great deal of his life merely making up for his Mark Twain impersonation.

"When I started the role originally as a 15-minute skit," he said, "I could get ready in five minutes. I slapped on a mustache and wig—didn't even bother to glue on the wig—put a couple of deep lines under my eyes and along my nose and that was about it."

"But the longer I played him the longer it took me to get ready. Now it takes me 3½ hours, and I have spent as much as 5 hours in makeup for a TV appearance."

"The television camera is so inquisitive—and the illusion must be perfect, or you have nothing."

American Heads British Meet

By RONALD THOMSON

TURNBERRY, Scotland (AP)—A little known young American who felt almost too depressed to play 48 hours ago, basked in the admiration of golf-crazy Scots today after emerging as a real threat for the British amateur title.

"I'm not letting just a single win go to my head," said Muoro (Binky) Mitchell, 23. "But there is one thing—I've shaken off the blues."

After a first-round bye, the crew-cut, blond Texan, an Army lieutenant stationed near London, made the locals choke over their whiskies by eliminating Dr. Frank Deighton, one-time Walker Cup player, 4 and 3 in the second round.

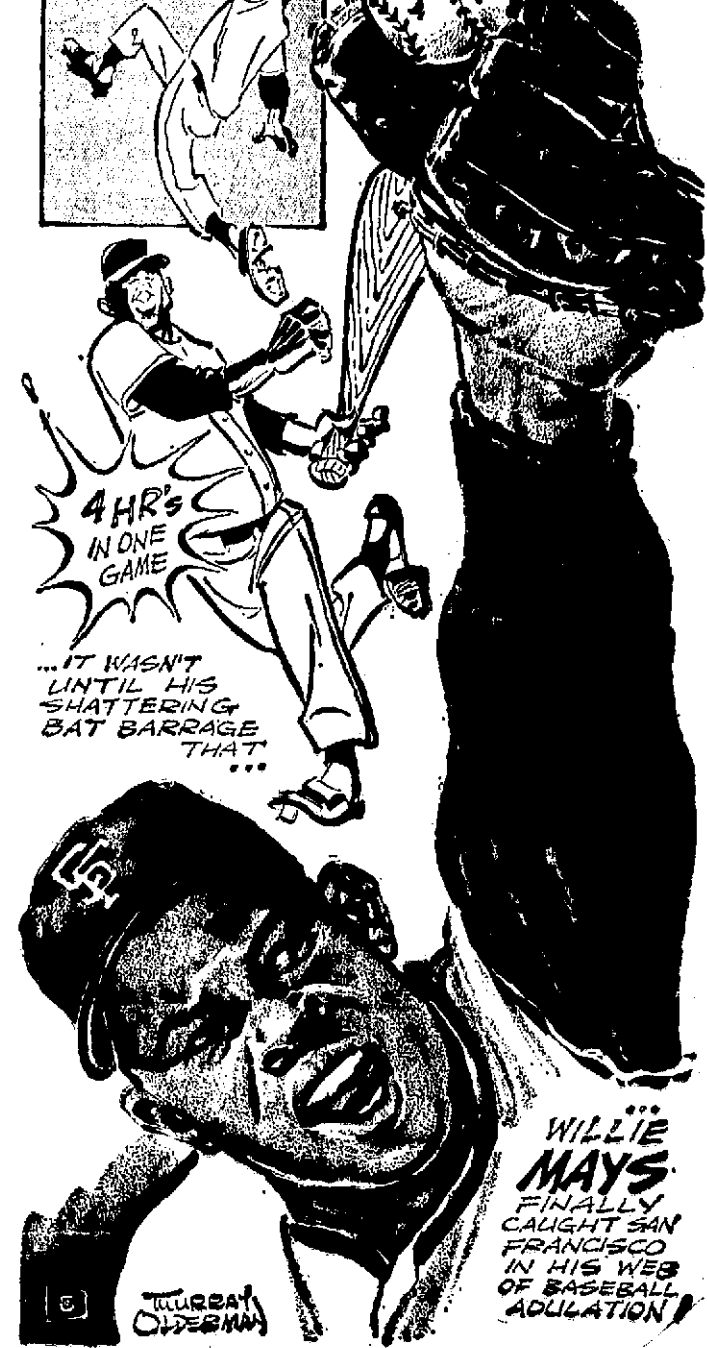

Mitchell, from Fort Worth, has played in the U.S. national college championships without doing anything unusual.

Mitchell was one of nine Americans who went into today's third round.

He'll Just Give Up Baton Tossing
VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Steve Hardina, 14, says he is giving up baton twirling.

A mighty toss sent Steve's baton so high in the air that it struck two 4,000-volt power lines, with these consequences:
A 10-block area of the city was blacked out for an hour.

A grass fire was started. A radio station was knocked off the air.

"I was only trying to toss the baton as high as the power pole, like the man in the circus," Steve explained after Sunday night's fireworks.

He's More Than She Can Take

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: I have lived for 14 years with the world's most temperamental husband. He is jealous of my family, neighbors, friends and even my pastor.

I must have his permission for everything I do. If I don't he flies into a tantrum, going so far as to pour my expensive perfume down the drain to prove who's boss.

I don't know what I would do if it weren't for his mother who loves me as much as I love her. What with him, our six children and the house to look after, I'm just about done for.

He cursed me till I joined his church. Yet he never goes. Last Sunday after church I went to my mother's, then with friends to a civic meeting. When I got home he started cursing me before his mother. I feel like never going any place again. It isn't worth the row that's sure to follow. —D. W.

Dear D. W. Put-upon people have only themselves to blame. A man of your husband's temperament will rent and rave just so long as you let him. Show some pride. Tell him nobody can curse you and get away with it. Next time he tried it's goodbye, and make sure it is.

Dear Helen: I love a man who has been separated from his wife five years. She lives in our home town where we all grew up. He goes every three or four months to visit his mother. I have to trust him not to see his wife. He says he wants me to marry him but never does anything about divorcing. If he really loved me wouldn't he do different? —Confused

Welfare Is Inserted in Bond Fuss

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Welfare Commissioner Carl Adams said today that if Gov. Orval E. Faubus' $60 million construction bond plan is adopted welfare checks will be increased early in the new fiscal year beginning July 1.

But he said that if the proposal fails, welfare checks may have to be lowered, salaries cut and services reduced.

He said the Legislature would be forced by public demand to either impose a new tax to meet construction needs or to reduce the money for welfare, schools and other services.

Adams was replying to an assertion Monday of Rep. J. H. Cottrell of Pulaski County that welfare money might have to be used to pay off principal and interest on the bonds.

He said Cottrell had the situation reversed and added that the representative was trying "to panic the old people" into opposing the governor's plan at the June 27 election on it.

On the opposition side Forrest Rozzell, executive secretary of the Arkansas Education Association, charged today that the bond proposal would give the University of Arkansas and the state-supported colleges "more than the entire amount invested in these institutions' buildings in the entire history of the state."

In a civic club speech Rozzell said that the university and the seven colleges would get $42 million of the bonds.

"A 1956 report by the Governor's Advisory Committee on Education reflected that the total appraised value of all buildings at these institutions, exclusive of University Medical Center was approximately $35.9 million," he said.

He contended that sufficient classrooms to meet the expected increase in enrollment could be provided "for less than half the money called for in the bond deal."

And, he said, "it is impossible to justify the issuance of $60 million in bonds—which by the time they are paid off will cost the taxpayers $90 million — when there's a $15 million surplus now lying idle in the treasury."

Faubus didn't join today in the battle of statements.

On Monday he said—as Adams did today—that it might be necessary to use welfare funds to pay for construction if the bond plan fails.

Cottrell said if welfare or school funds are not used to pay off the bonds, a tax increase will be necessary. Faubus had said earlier that public school funds won't be used and taxes won't be raised.

At a news conference Monday, Faubus called "ridiculous" Cottrell's charge concerning the welfare checks.

In the news conference, Faubus said if the bond issue has any effect on welfare or school funds, "it would be in the reverse."

"If the bond issue fails," he said, "it could mean a new tax or a cut into welfare or any other agency funds to finance construction needs."

The bond issue would provide construction money for state colleges, the University of Arkansas, the Children's Colony, the State Hospital and others.

Cottrell already has won one financial battle with the governor. He filed a taxpayers suit that led to the state Supreme Court's declaring Faubus' $14.5 million omnibus financing act unconstitutional. The omnibus act was a companion measure to the proposed bond bill.

Faubus has said a special session of the legislature probably will be necessary to redistribute the money which would have been allocated by the omnibus act.

Faubus also lashed at another critic of his bonds—state Sen. Roy Milum of Harrison. Milum has advocated a pay-as-you-go bond plan and Faubus said that in 36 years in the Senate Milum has not been able to come up with such a plan.

"I don't think he will be able to in the next few months," Faubus added.

In the possession of the U.S. after 1803 Arkansas was first a part of Louisiana Territory and from 1812, a district of Missouri Territory until it became a territory in 1819.

Dominican Officer to Go to Trial

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Ex-Defense Minister Jose Roman Fernandez will be tried by a court-martial for complicity in the assassination of dictator Rafael Trujillo. It is generally expected he will be executed.

The gray-haired, much-decorated major general who owed his high position to Trujillo has been accused of hoping to take over the government after Trujillo's death.

A communique from the office of Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., chief of the armed forces, said Roman, whose wife is the niece of Trujillo's widow, had confessed complicity in the slaying of the dictator May 30.

President Juanito Balaguer told a news conference that the investigation had not brought forth concrete evidence that any foreign nation was involved in the plot against Trujillo.

Balaguer also expressed satisfaction with the activities so far of the mission from the Organization of American States sent here to check the government's promises to restore civil rights and prepare for democratic elections next May 16.

The bond issue would provide construction money for state colleges, the University of Arkansas, the Children's Colony, the State Hospital and others.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story

THE THIEF
By CHALMER DELONG WEST

Mr. Melvin was a likeable old fellow who worked as a night watchman in a large department store. He was so kind that he even shared his sandwiches with the rats in the basement and the pigeons on the roof.

For many years he had been one of the most trusted employees with a long record for honesty. Then, after a series of personal misfortunes, consisting of betting wrong horses, he found himself deeply in debt. This was the moment when Mr. Melvin submitted to temptation.

Like many thieves, Mr. Melvin told himself that he would steal only enough to restore himself to solvency. After all, the store had been kind to him in supplying money for him to bet on horses, so why should he take it out on the store for losing?

He made careful plans.

First he built a false bottom in this lunch pail, in which he could hide small but valuable items such as wrist watches, transistor radios, small cameras and supplies, jewelry and silver.

Then he began a series of thefts taking items in such a way that the store would suspect shoplifters rather than the kindly old night watchman.

He disposed of his loot to friends and neighbors, explaining that he was able to obtain the goods at a discount and could sell them at a great saving. He realized this was risky business, but he believed he was clever enough to escape detection until he reaped his small but precious personal fortune.

"I won't make a permanent habit of this," he said, and he thought he meant it.

However well Mr. Melvin's path was paved with good intentions, it led nowhere.

He did not quit when he was even. He did not quit when he was ahead. At both of these stopping points, he obeyed his urge to go on, to protect himself against possible misfortunes because no one seemed to suspect him. Thus he continued his dishonest pursuit.

Thefts were, as Mr. Melvin intended, attributed to shoplifters at first. The store manager increased his staff of detectives, and some petty shoplifting was brought to light, but in every case the detectives decided that the culprit wasn't responsible for the large thefts.

Security regulations were tightened; employees were watched closely. The store even hired detectives to watch the store detectives. But the big leak wasn't stopped.

Finally employees were searched. Anyone with a large parcel was stopped and asked to open the parcel. The employees often resented this, but the management explained that innocent employees need not worry and the measure was only intended to curb one case of dishonesty.

Even Mr. Melvin was stopped and his lunch pail opened, but no one suspected it had a false bottom in it.

Besides, he was such a nice old fellow.

Then one night, when Mr. Melvin reported for work, a detective was waiting for him. He was taken into custody.

Where did I make my mistake? Mr. Melvin asked.

"You didn't stop soon enough," said the detective. "One of your customers returned a watch that didn't run and asked for a refund. We checked the serial number and found that it was one of the items stolen. Always deal in

Firemen Rescue Three Children

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Two firemen crawled through a smoke-filled house to rescue three children after their mother had leaped to the ground Monday.

Fire Capt. Richard Broyles said two of the three girls were unconscious when he and Fireman Gene Wise reached them in an upstairs bedroom.

The mother, Mrs. Hertha McBroom, 37, was found unconscious on the ground when firemen arrived. She and all three children were in good condition in a hospital.

Broyles said he and Wise found Lee Ann, 6, and Charlene, 5, unconscious. The third girl, Carolyn, 13, was still conscious. They revived when the firemen got them outside.

Explosion Rips Section of Italy

BOLANO, Italy (AP)—Violent predawn explosion ripped half a dozen communities of the disputed South Tyrol today, spreading darkness and terror in the area. A later explosion killed a road worker.

Police said the road worker had found a dynamite charge and was about to report to police when it exploded. He was the first fatality of a long-smoldering dispute between Italy and Austria in which extremists demand that Italy grant autonomy to the large German-speaking population.

The blasts destroyed a number of steel and concrete towers supporting electric lines.

With repair crews forced to trudge for miles through mountain terrain to reach some of the wrecked towers, parts of the area may be without power for some time.

Conway Teachers Get Pay Hike

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Public school teachers here can expect salary increases of $250 to $280 during the next school year, Hays Gibson, Conway school superintendent, said Saturday. He said the extra funds will come from state sources. Gibson also disclosed that bids for a $675,000 school construction program will be received July 6.

Wants Watch on Requests for Money

Arkansans in Washington By GORDON BROWN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., is again trying to establish a congressional committee that would keep a vigilant and constant eye on the appropriation requests of the executive departments of government.

He and Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., have tried unsuccessfully for several years to create a House-Senate budget committee with sufficient staff to check on budget requests to determine if they are justified.

McClellan contends that under the present system, the administrative departments and agencies send their huge money requests to Congress and about all the Appropriations Committees can do is hear testimony from the very people making the requests. These persons, naturally, are interested in justifying them—not in having them trimmed or eliminated.

Except in rare instances there is no opposition testimony before the Appropriations Committees. McClellan says this provides the committees with a one-sided picture with the result that the public interest isn't adequately protected.

McClellan and Colmer made their strongest fight in 1953. That year the Senate passed the bill. Colmer managed to get it to the House floor—over strong opposition by the House Appropriations Committee—where it lost by 16 votes.

The Senate has passed the McClellan bill again this year—without a dissenting vote. Whether it gets a vote in the House is another matter.

Opposition of the House Appropriations Committee is based on the fact that under the Constitution the House, not the Senate, initiates all appropriations and tax bills. Leaders of the committee have indicated they regard the McClellan bill as something of an infringement on that right.

Chairman Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., says the staff of his committee is capable of making the necessary checks of the budget requests. In fact, after the 1953 defeat of the McClellan-Colmer bill, Cannon did increase the size of his staff for the avowed purpose of providing more complete information on budget requests.

But McClellan and Colmer maintain that a year-round ef-

River Commission Group Named

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus today named 10 east Arkansians to the state Mississippi River Parkway Planning Commission.

The commission, created by the 1961 legislature, will work with similar groups in other states to promote development of a scenic highway following the Mississippi from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

Required by law to name one member from each of 10 designated counties, Faubus selected: Joe Steel of Monticello, C. C. Stewart of Watson, Porter C. Young of Helena, R. W. Dudley of De Witt, Gordon Love of Hughes, Milton Beck of Marion, Abbott F. Kinney of Dermott, A. J. Horner of Blytheville, Paul Benham Jr. of Marianna and J. E. Allmon Jr. of Clarendon.

Faubus said he feels the parkway, which has been discussed for more than 20 years, will eventually be built. "There's a lot of interest being expressed in it all the way from Canada to New Orleans," Faubus said.

fort is needed, that a joint budget committee staff could go down into the departments and watch the budgets as they are being prepared, thus becoming familiar with them by the millions of dollars.

They also take the position that such a committee would in no way infringe on the Constitutional rights of the House, that the joint committee would merely be the money eyes and ears for Congress and would have nothing to do with making up the appropriations bills.

McClellan, discussing his proposal recently, said that "while the President is clearly authorized to propose, it is equally clear that the responsibility to dispose rests with Congress."

It is one of Congress' most important responsibilities to control the appropriations. He questions if it is discharging that responsibility under the present system.

"If the Congress is to discharge its responsibility with respect to the expenditure of public funds, it must develop the necessary machinery as well as adequate procedures," he said.

"Only then will the Congress have the facts and background information to enable it to act judiciously on requests for funds from executive branch agencies and departments."

"This machinery must be designed so as to enable the Congress to analyze more thoroughly and screen more effectively spending requests."

Bull's Job Minor, Says MS Council

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State Merit System Council said Monday that John B. Bull of Little Rock, a campaign fund collector for the governor, held only a minor job interviewing applicants for jobs with the state employment Security Division.

Bull testified at a federal Civil Service Commission hearing last week that he had collected money for Gov. Orval E. Faubus in every campaign Faubus had made.

The hearing was on charge that five ESD employees solicited funds in April, 1960, from ESD employees for the Faubus campaign fund in violation of the federal Hatch Act.

The Merit System Council said Bull was not regarded as a member of the Merit System staff since he was employed only about 12 days a year as an oral examiner to give tests to applicants for the job of interviewers with the state ESD.

The council said Bull had no authority to hire anyone and no official appointment. He was picked because he had worked with the ESD for about five years and had the knowledge needed to screen the applicants. The Merit System gives examinations for jobs in the ESD and other state agencies that use federal money.

John I. Hogue, the council supervisor, said the council maintains a list of about 20 men and women who assist the council, on call in holding oral examinations. They receive $15 a day and are used usually one to three days at a session and for not more than three or four times during a year.

He said Bull had been employed three days in the past 15 months as an oral examiner. Hogue said Bull came into contact with only 54 persons being tested out of about 6,532.

Awards Luncheon at Harding

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—An awards luncheon will highlight today's final session of the 17th annual Arkansas Writers Conference at Harding College. The three-day affair has drawn 106 writers from 11 states. Clovis Copeland of the Arkansas Publicity and Parks Commission was among speakers Sunday.

Taxes, Trouble Hand in Hand

ENGLAND, Ark. (AP)—Taxes and trouble go hand-in-hand according to one taxpayer here.

The anonymous taxpayer wrote the following letter to the county clerk's office:

"Dear Sir: "I received your letter and statement. I did not forget this property that was supposed to be mine. I done my best to keep up the tax and find the place.

"I spent so much money trying to find the place and keep up the taxes I gave up. But I would be glad to pay the tax up if the state would give me back the money I spent and take the lots back.

"My dad did not ever see the place before he died and mother kept them up thinking she would get a chance. She died. And I done my best so I guess I will have to give up too."

Tell Difference

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—State Rep. Virgil T. Fletcher of Saline County has asked the Legislative Council to study possible legislation requiring high schools to teach the differences between communism and democracy. The council will consider the request at a meeting here Friday. It will also consider a proposed resolution to set up a legislative speakers bureau.

Thinks Aid Bill to Get Through

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders predicted today that President Kennedy's foreign aid program will "come out in pretty good shape" in Congress.

The leaders, after a conference with Kennedy, said they discussed a wide range of questions, with particular emphasis on the foreign aid program.

House Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas described the Kennedy plan to put foreign aid on a long-range rather than a year-to-year basis as the most controversial.

Rayburn told newsmen he and other Democratic leaders regarded the foreign aid program, including the long-range feature, as vitally necessary.

NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

FIZZY By Kate Osann

"Mom didn't get around to hemming my skirt today—she went next door for a minute!"

FLASH GORDON By Dan Barry

WE SKRAGG COME AS PEACEFUL AMBASSADORS! AND FIND EARTH SWARMING WITH ABASAGGERS!

YOU WISH TO SEE EARTHMEN AS THEY REALLY ARE? THEN CHOOSE ANY PLACE TO LAND! WHERE YOU'RE NOT EXPECTED!

WE WILL GO IT!

TO SAY TURN 'EM LOOSE, IF THEY'D GO WAY AN' LEAVE US ALONE!

I DUNNO... IF THEY'RE ALL LIKE OXY, I WOULDN'T TRUST 'EM OUTA SIGHT!

NOWS WE GOT TWO MOONMEN ON OUR HANDS, WHAT WE GONNA DO WITH 'EM?

LOOK, YOU GUYS... IF WE'D TURN YOU LOOSE, WOULD YOU GO ON YOUR SPACESHIP AN' TAKE OFF?

HECK NO! WHY SHOULD WE?

OH, YES WE WOULD!

NOW WHICH OF YOU BIRDS ARE WE TO BELIEVE?

ME! I RANK HIM ALL TO PIECES!
